Full-year 2023 financial highlights

- Revenue increased by 9% to DKK 4,824 million (4,511) based on growth in all sales regions. Exchange rates impacted reported growth negatively by 2 p.p.
- Tablet sales increased by 11% to DKK 2,296 million (2,102). European tablet sales regained momentum in the second half-year with 13% growth.
- Sales of SCIT and SLIT-drops increased by 12% to DKK 1,939 (1,748), while sales of other products and services decreased 9% to DKK 589 million (661) as supply shortages affected sales of Jext[®] adrenaline auto-injectors.
- EBIT increased by 50% to DKK 666 million (470), corresponding to a 14% EBIT margin (10) on higher sales, improved gross margin and a lower capacity cost to revenue ratio.
- Free cash flow was positive at DKK 292 million (65).

2024 financial outlook

ALK expects broad-based growth across sales regions and product groups in 2024 with tablet sales being key to growth. Profitability is expected to further improve, driven by revenue growth, benefits of scale and a reduction in external costs for clinical trials.

- Revenue is expected to grow by 9-12% in local currencies.
- The EBIT margin is expected at 17-19% against 14% in 2023.

ALK's CEO Peter Halling says: "We are pleased with the strategic and financial progress made in 2023, allowing us to deliver a solid set of results despite a challenging market environment. We now build on the momentum established in the second half of 2023, particularly in European tablet sales, and we expect that 2024 will mark the sixth consecutive year of revenue growth and improved earnings."
